

Nancy J. Wilson, CMP

Nancy J. Wilson, CMP, is a leader, innovator and entrepreneur in the meeting planning and events industry. She began her career in the industry in 1978 and is now a principal with MeetGreen, a Portland, Ore.-based conference management and consulting firm that she founded and which specializes in green meetings. Wilson served on the Live Earth Global Green Team and is cofounder of the Green Meeting Industry Council, currently serving on the Board's Executive Committee. Wilson is also the coauthor of Simple Steps to Green Meetings and Events. Her blog, "Pretentious Musings of a MeetGreen

Martyr," shares resources, tips, ideas and funny stories about the life of a green meeting planner, and can be accessed at <http://blog.meetgreen.com>. To inquire about purchasing a checklist and other tools for planning a green meeting, contact MeetGreen at info@meetgreen.com.

Contact: info@meetgreen.com